

Merger Update

As we prepare to move forward as a merged church and school, four important things are happening this week.

1. This Wednesday is the first workday at the schools. We will be preparing classrooms for next year. There is sign-up information for this in the announcements in the bulletin. You are invited to participate in this effort.
2. A newly formed Worship Team will be meeting for the first time on Monday evening. They will be looking at ways to enhance the joint worship services with special music, using the combined talents of the three congregations.
3. The Property Team will be walking through the Good Shepherd's school facility with our newly contracted architects. We will be telling them our needs and wants for a joint worship space, Bible Class space, offices, kitchen, and other areas that will benefit our congregation. From the information we share with them, we will get our first draft of plans for the worship space.
4. Now that the school year is complete, our new school faculty will be meeting a couple of times this week to continue to plan for next school year. Please pray for God to bless their time together and their efforts on behalf of our school.

June 4, 2023

Merger Update

As we prepare to move forward as a merged church and school, four important things are happening this week.

1. This Wednesday is the first workday at the schools. We will be preparing classrooms for next year. There is sign-up information for this in the announcements in the bulletin. You are invited to participate in this effort.
2. A newly formed Worship Team will be meeting for the first time on Monday evening. They will be looking at ways to enhance the joint worship services with special music, using the combined talents of the three congregations.
3. The Property Team will be walking through the Good Shepherd's school facility with our newly contracted architects. We will be telling them our needs and wants for a joint worship space, Bible Class space, offices, kitchen, and other areas that will benefit our congregation. From the information we share with them, we will get our first draft of plans for the worship space.
4. Now that the school year is complete, our new school faculty will be meeting a couple of times this week to continue to plan for next school year. Please pray for God to bless their time together and their efforts on behalf of our school.

June 4, 2023

